SUNDIPT

These two pictures, together with "Wabash" on the front cover, are the prize winners in the 1938 photographic contest. See page 3.

GAUCHO is a very large variegata whose brilliance makes it a valuable garden accent.

SUNDIPT—probably the best buy of all the yellows. Tall, well-branched, with excellent carriage.

Five Acres of Colors

FIVE acres of iris in full bloom present a breath-taking sight.

Here at Longfield Iris Farm, Iris, Daylilies and Peonies are grown in such quantities that there is no room for other desirable perennials that would help in working out a logical landscape arrangement. The wealth of material in the three perennials in which we specialize requires all the available space and the result is a riot of bloom that gives a thrill to the flower lover who, in his own efforts at gardening, can do much more in working out color harmonies, providing tonal backgrounds and boldly planting accent marks.

Flower lovers are welcome at Longfield during the blooming season, which reaches its height, for Iris, around Memorial Day. Here the iris lover will find over 500 varieties. He will be able to check the impression he has received from catalog descriptions, with the actual bloom. He may compare one variety with another and thus aid his judgment in selecting varieties for his own garden.

Bluffton lies 25 miles south of Fort Wayne—paved roads in all directions. The garden is at the west end of Market Street. If no attendant is there when you arrive, come to 419 West Market Street and we'll see that someone takes care of you.

MARY WILLIAMSON.

Introduction and Terms

(Please read carefully before ordering).

PRICES in this catalog supplant those in all our previous catalogs and price lists. Unless otherwise indicated prices are for one plant delivered prepaid to the customer in the United States only. However, orders amounting to $2.00 or less are not prepaid and must include 25c postage when order is given to us. On orders amounting to $25.00 or more a discount of 10% will be allowed. Please do not pay for order in stamps of over 3c denomination. If you are interested in five or more plants of any variety we shall be glad to quote you a price on the number desired.

The size, quality and labeling of every plant are guaranteed to be satisfactory to the customer. If there is any complaint when plants are received, do not return them but give them the best possible treatment you can and write us at once, indicating the adjustment desired.

The best time for planting is immediately following the blooming season in July or August. However, we will ship on any date you wish or as near to that time as we can. We cannot ship before June 15 nor after November 1.

We shall personally be glad to assist you in making selections for your garden if you will write us.

Brief directions for planting are given on the reverse of the duplicate order sheet in this catalog.

Attention Amateur Photographers

To stimulate interest in Iris and in flower photography, we are having a series of three contests. This is the last year of the series and we hope that everyone will take advantage of this opportunity. Prizes are offered for the best photographs of Iris of our introduction. We are seeking good pictures of specimens, not of plantings. Size of negative is not important, so long as it is sharp.

Prizes

- 1st Prize—$35.00 in Longfield Iris Introductions (your selection—E. B. Williamson and Sable excepted).
- 2nd Prize—$20.00 in Longfield Iris Introductions (your selection—E. B. Williamson and Sable excepted).
- 3rd Prize—$10.00 in Longfield Iris Introductions (your selection).
- 10 Prizes—$1.00 each in Longfield Iris Introductions (your selection).

Rules

1. Photograph or snapshot may be either a close-up of a single flower, one stalk, or several stalks but must be of one variety only.
2. The photograph or snapshot must be a Longfield Introduction (complete list is found on reverse of order sheet) and must include on back of photo or on separate sheet of paper the name of the variety.
3. Photographs will not be returned to owner.
4. Contestant is to preserve his negative but consent to loan it to us if we require it.
5. Entries must be mailed to us not later than August 15th, 1939.

The 1938 Winners

First prize in the 1938 contest was won by Mr. F. W. Cassebeer, of New York City, with his excellent photograph of Wabash, reproduced on the front cover of this catalog.

The lovely group study of Sundipt, reproduced on our inside front cover, won second place for Mr. D. G. Waters of Elmore, Ohio.

Mr. Alfred S. Knowlton, 143 Liberty St., New York City, won third prize with Gaicho, also shown on the inside front cover.

Roman Gold Medal For 1938 Awarded to Iris E. B. Williamson

First Certificate Awarded to Iris Sable

In 1936 Mr. Paul Cook of Bluffton sent two of his seedlings, later named E. B. Williamson and Sable, to Rome, Italy, as entrees in the International Test Garden for new introductions. The planting was made near the entrance to the Colosseum in Colle Oppio Park, Rome, and was carefully watched and cultivated for two years. This spring the first award in the form of a Gold Medal was presented to the Iris E. B. Williamson as the finest new introduction. Sable as runner-up received one of the First Certificates. Other First Certificates were awarded as follows: two to Mr. Cayeux of France, and one to Mr. Van Tubergen of Holland. Second Certificates were awarded to Mr. Cayeux of France and to Mr. Chadburn of England.

Mr. Cook regrets that due to the severe May freezes in 1938, which completely eradicated his garden of all flower stalks, he was unable to select any Iris for introduction this year.

A planting at the Williamson home was the only garden that escaped severe damage, enabling us to introduce Shawano for this year.

New Longfield Introduction For 1939

Our 1939 introduction is not to be considered in computing the 10 per cent quantity discount mentioned on page 2.

A "self" is an Iris whose standards and falls are practically the same color.

A "bicolor" is an Iris whose standards differ in color from the falls.

A "neglecta" is a purple bicolor.

A "plicata" is an Iris whose petals are sanded, veined or otherwise marked with a color darker than the ground color.

A "variegata" is an Iris with standards of yellow, gold or orange and falls heavily veined a darker color or completely of a darker color.

An "amoena" is an Iris with white standards and colored falls, sometimes veined or margined white.

Names of colors in capitals are those of Ridgeway's Color Standards and Nomenclature. It is unfortunate that copies of this work are limited but until we have a more widely distributed standard the conscientious describer can do no better than follow the only definite and reliable standard available. The Ridgeway names in many instances are color names in common usage and in most cases they can be fairly interpreted even by those not acquainted with the color charts.

Brief Directions for Planting and Caring for Bearded Iris

Sweet, well-drained soil, free of roots of other plants, preferably with some lime, and all the sunshine possible. No fresh manure, no tree leaves; clean, shallow cultivation and no litter or mulch about the plants from early spring until the ground freezes in the fall. A light winter mulch of corn fodder or straw, brought up about the plants, rather than thrown on them, is beneficial but is not necessary except for plants recently planted and not well established. Bonemeal is a satisfactory fertilizer. Well rotted manure may be used if well spaded under, so there is no humus in contact with the rhizomes. Wood ashes may be used freely.

A plant ready for planting consists of 2 essential parts—the leaves and the rhizome (often mistakenly called bulb). Moderate drying does not injure the leaves or rhizomes. If the soil is dry at planting time, fill the trench or hole with water and after it has soaked into the ground, spread the roots over the moist surface and draw soil over them, tramping it down firmly and covering with loose soil. The rhizome should be just below or at the surface and should be held firmly in place if the soil has been properly packed over the roots.

Rarely, due to high temperatures and humidity, slimy bacterial decay will attack the leaves and rhizomes of plants in transit. When such plants are received wipe off all the moist and decayed parts with a rag or ball of paper or excelsior, and dust the base of the leaves and the rhizome thoroughly with sulphur, powdered gypsum or plaster of paris. Plant at once with the upper surface of the rhizome exposed to sun and air. Keep plant under observation to see disease is checked. If the disease progresses, treat as directed for rhizome rot.

Rhizome Rot. The name is descriptive. Give a gentle pull to adjacent leaves to see if the disease has spread beyond the area you have detected. Scrape out all disease and softened tissue and pack the cavity with powdered gypsum. Scatter gypsum on the ground about the diseased area until the surface is white. Examine the plant from day to day to see if the disease is checked.

Mustard Seed Fungus. Work gypsum into the soil to the depth of half an inch and scatter on the surface until it is white.

Root Borer. (1) Clean the garden thoroughly of all litter and old Iris leaves as early in the spring as possible. Burn this litter. (2) After vigorous leaf growth is established in the spring watch for evidence of borer attacks and cut off the leaves below the point where the borer is working; drop the leaves in a tight bottomed basket or bucket and burn them, or bury them in a well-packed grave. (3) Dig plants immediately after flowering, trim leaves down to a 3-6 inch fan, burn or bury all leaves and discarded bits of rhizomes. When trimming plants look carefully for borers. Lay plants on cool (earthen or cement) floor and keep moist (cover with moist burlaps, old carpet or straw) for about 48 hours. Examine again for borers and replant.

Join the American Iris Society

Every gardener interested in Iris should join the great company of flower enthusiasts comprising the American Iris Society. Each new member receives four valuable booklets each year, recording the development of this charming flower. Your membership will help you in planning your garden picture, will assist you in appraising more surely the value of new introductions.

Membership costs $3.00 per year. You may add that amount to the order you send us for Iris, designating it for Iris society membership, and we'll take care of the rest. Or you may send your remittance with a letter of application to the Secretary of the Society, Mr. Howard R. Watkins, 821 Washington Loan & Trust Bldg., Washington, D. C.

Identifying Flowers Sent by Mail

Every year we receive a number of packages containing Iris flowers to be named. We are sorry it is impossible to do this with any accuracy or certainty. Such flowers have always been received in poor or very bad condition and the number of named varieties and unnamed seedlings in gardens is so great that identifications based on such wilted or rotted flowers are utterly untrustworthy. Such unnamed plants may be named by some expert who visits your garden or you can take freshly cut stalks to an Iris show or to some good garden for comparison. We do not believe it is worth while sending such flowers by mail to be named.
